

Minor

Children's Rights Minor

Jeehye Kang, Coordinator

This interdisciplinary minor is focused on the exploration of child rights within and across diverse disciplines and in the U.S. and internationally. This perspective challenges approaches in the various disciplines that have in their study of children traditionally denied or failed to recognize children's human rights and dignity. In place of the traditional perspectives, courses in this interdisciplinary minor frame the study of children within the larger framework of human rights, more specifically, children's rights and status as a group within society in social science research and theory, literature, the arts, humanities, education, counseling, law and public policy.

Requirements

Course options are as follows:

Select four of the following. 12

|              |  |
|--------------|--|
| COMM 427     | Children's Communication Theory and Research |
| CRJS/SOC 403 | Violence in the World of Children            |
| CRJS/SOC 408 | Children's Rights and the Law                |
| HMSV 448     | Interventions and Advocacy with Children     |
| PSYC 351     | Child Psychology                             |
| SOC 402      | Sociology of Child Welfare                   |
| SOC 407      | Violence Against Children Internationally    |
| SOC 440      | Health, Illness, and Society                 |
| PUBH 360     | Introduction to Global Health                |

Total Credit Hours 12

The children's rights interdisciplinary minor requires 12 credit hours of 300/400-level courses selected from at least two different disciplines with a maximum of six credits from any one discipline. For completion of the interdisciplinary minor, students must have a minimum overall cumulative grade point average of 2.00 in all courses specified as a requirement for the minor exclusive of lower-level courses and prerequisite courses. At least six hours of 300/400 upper-level courses must be taken through courses offered by Old Dominion University. Three credit hours may be in the major, if a major course is listed as an option for the interdisciplinary minor. As such, it will be credited toward both the major and the interdisciplinary minor.