

Minor

Health Equity and Social Justice Minor

This minor explores social determinants of health, including how social factors such as race, ethnicity, class, gender, sexuality, culture, and location impact community health. Particular attention will be paid to structural causes of health disparities, sources of resilience, and health policies.

For more information about the minor, please contact - Kathleen Slauson-Blevins, Minor Coordinator, at kslauson@odu.edu (%20kslauson@odu.edu).
